START EARLY

Mayor Lang and Mayor Duncan Desire Changes in the Charter.

NO WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Mayor of Lexington Thinks It is Ruining Lexington's Schools—Wants Clause Repealed.

WILL WORK TOGETHER TO DO IT

Mayor Duncan, of Lexington, wants several objectionable clauses of the charter of cities of the second class, under which Paducah will be governed next year, repealed and has enlisted the assistance of Mayor Lang in his efforts. Mayor Lang will be out of office when the legislature meets next year, but he will in the meantime do all he can to have certain provisions of the charter eliminated when the assembly meets. He so informed Mayor Duncan and said that his principal objection was that "woman suffrage in school elections was permitted under the second class charters."

Today he received a reply from Mayor Duncan, stating that this feature was indeed a curse, and was rapidly ruining the school system.

He said that the reason of this was that intelligent white women will not allow their way to the polls or registration booths through crowds of the most ignorant of the negro women, and that as a result about ten negro women to every white woman register and vote, and this places the balance of power in school elections in the hands of a vicious, ignorant element.

It is probable that this part of the charter will be repealed.

There are other objectionable features and these will be taken up also. Mayor Lang has studied the charter quite extensively, and is certain that many improvements can be made in it, and that it will be a great advantage to Paducah when she steps into the new class, provided the changes are made.

One way to do this will be to have pledged the various candidates for the general assembly who are to be elected this fall, and when they go into office it will be with the full understanding of what is expected of them.

WILL EXEMPT IT.

THE IRON FURNACE WILL NOT BE TAXED AS LONG AS RUN.

The council will at its next meeting exempt for five years or as long as operated, the Paducah iron furnace, which is to be run by Mr. Frank Eagle, of Milwaukee. If the furnace should suspend, as it did last year, the exemption will be void, and taxes will be collected as before.

Last year it was exempted from taxation under the ordinance, but did not run long, and now has to be exempted again.

A BOY'S PERILOUS RIDE

Muscantine, Ia., July 6.—J. Carlton Meyers, a West Liberty, Ia. boy, was caught by a rope of a balloon during a Fourth of July celebration at that place, and was carried five miles and dropped unharmed into the next county. The aeronaut yelled to the boy to hang on. He did so and it not only saved his life, but prompted admirers of his bravery to make up a $100 purse for him.

RAILROAD MAN PROMOTED

Mr. Pete Beadles, a former carman in the yardmaster's department of the Illinois Central here, has been promoted to the position vacated by the resignation of Mr. Jerry Corbett, a checker, who will shortly remove to Frankfort to reside. Mr. O. A. Mitchell has been put in Mr. Beadles' place. This is the first change in the yardmaster's department for some time.

GOOD ROADS

The Big Train Will Pass Through This Afternoon Late.

COL. RICHARDSON COMING

He Will Address Paducahans at the Palmer This Evening at 10 O'Clock on the Good Roads Movement.

LARGE CROWD DESIRED TO HEAR HIM

Col. Richardson of the Good Roads movement will arrive in the city from Cairo tonight and wants to meet the gentlemen of the city who are interested in the movement in any way, at the Palmer. The Good Roads train has been meeting with the greatest success at every town where it had engagements and the people are very enthusiastic over the excellent roads it has built. The delegation is on its way to Hopkinsville where they give an exhibition next week and will stay in Paducah only a few hours.

Col. Richardson wants every citizen who is interested in good roads to meet him at the Palmer tonight at 10 o'clock when he will deliver an address on Good Roads.

It is hoped a good representation will meet him.

Mr. G. W. Fallis, a representative of the Brimly Hardy Co., of Louisville, master mechanic of the Good Roads train, has been in the city all day, and will leave for Hopkinsville tonight. He has made many friends during his brief stay.

The Good Roads train will pass through the city this afternoon late on route from Cairo to Hopkinsville and to go out and take a look at it will be well worth the trouble of anyone. It has passed through a time or two already, but it was always at night, and the people of Paducah did not get an opportunity to see it.

AGAIN INDICTED

Justus Goebel Gets Another Throw Down at Covington.

GRAND JURY AFTER HIM

Indicted For Obtaining Money By Threat From the Clerk in the Water Works Office.

BLOW DEALT DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Covington, July 6.—Following the sensational indictment against Justus Goebel, found a few days ago by the Kenton county grand jury for the alleged drawing of $50 a month of the salary of a man whose appointment he had secured to public office, came another surprise this afternoon, when the grand jury brought another against him.

The one found today charges him with obtaining money from J. Landdowne, a clerk in the Water Works Department, by threats and intimidation. The exact nature of the threats are not detailed, but the indictment has fallen as another bomb in the camp of the erstwhile leaders of the Democratic party in Kentucky.

Justus Goebel is now in California, and while he has his defenders, who ask that judgment be withheld until he can answer to the charges, it is not presumed that the officers of the court would so far forget their oaths as to bring indictments against a man without good grounds, hence sentiment among a great many seems to be against the accused and his political methods as they are being revealed by the grand jury's investigation.

It is not known whether the accused will come to Kentucky to answer the charges or not.

TRADE GOOD

Retail Trade Surprises Local Merchants By the Good Volume.

WHOLESALE TRADE ACTIVE

The Furnace People Will Commence to Get Plant in Order Next Week.

COMMERCIAL NEWS OF THE WEEK

Hot weather got in its work on the retail trade the past week like it did on nearly everything else. However, everything considered, trade is holding up remarkably well and is the subject of comment. One of the largest retail establishments in the city reports trade surprisingly good and away ahead of any other year for this season of the year.

The wholesale trade is about the same, fairly active only. Some of the concerns are getting in fall shipments of goods and getting ready for the season that will soon be here. Collections are fair.

The rain of yesterday was timely and very general. Metropolis and Southern Illinois had a fine rain and Western Kentucky got a fair amount. The continued hot spell promised to play havoc with the crops, therefore the water fall was indeed welcome.

The trip of the Louisville business men was an interesting event of the week. The gentlemen were royally received by the local men, and it is needless to say that Louisville now has a very different opinion of Paducah and Paducah's commercial interests than she had before.

Mr. Eagles, of the furnace company will be here next week and start the work of putting the plant in order. It will be started, it is thought, some time about the middle of September. It is the intention of the owners, however, not to turn a wheel until everything is in readiness so that they may run without a stop.

Clearings at the banks for the week were $580,357.11. For the same time last week they were $583,903.37. Business was fairly active, deposits with some of the institutions showing a gain over last week. Loans are still high.

TO PRINCETON.

FATHER BOES WILL HAVE CHARGE OF EIGHT MISSIONS THERE.

Father E. W. Boes, who has been here as junior priest at the St. Francis De Sales church for the past six months, has been transferred to Princeton, where he will have charge of eight missions. He leaves this afternoon for his new charge and takes with him the good wishes of a large circle of friends. He is a talented young man, and will no doubt do great good in his new field.

HUGH HOUSE

In the Democratic County Committee Over Chairmanship.

WON'T VACATE

Has Not Resigned and Will Not—Secretary Eaton and Attorney Taylor Try to Mix.

Y TIME AT THE MEETING

Joe Potter, of the Democratic county committee, objects to being elected, and a lively contest is over the chairmanship. A few days ago Mr. Potter announced that he would not be on the committee for the council in the fall, and it was decided by some of the committee that the chairmanship thereby vacated.

Mr. Potter did not resign, and when at it said he was in no hurry, further was heard about the chairmanship, when Secretary Eaton, of the committee, announced that he would resign and call a meeting to elect a new chairman.

Mr. Potter was seen today by the committee, and stated that he didn't want to be elected. He would have a chairman now, he said. Potter, "I have never read the state central committee said for me to resign. I did some time ago when was chairman of the Democratic county committee, and at the same time of the board of Education, offices were not offices meaning of the law given."

ERMINING SUCH THINGS.

In other words, Mr. Potter thinks that although he is a nominee for the county council, he is entitled to hold the position of chairman of the Democratic county committee, and he seems determined to hold it. He has not resigned, and thinks that the call for the meeting to elect his successor was premature and unauthorized.

This afternoon when the committee met in Secretary Eaton's office there came near being a rough house.

There were fourteen members present, not a quorum, and Mr. Potter was addressed as chairman by Mr. R. G. Caldwell, who is a member of the committee and chairman of the city committee, and Secretary Eaton protested that there was a vacancy, and Mr. Potter was no longer chairman.

A wrangle ensued and a law passed by the last convention alleged to cover the case was sent for.

Attorney L. K. Taylor attempted to make a speech and was ordered by Secretary Eaton to sit down. This brought on more trouble, and the attorney threatened to crack Secretary Eaton's skull with his crutch, and they came near getting together.

Mr. Caldwell separated them, and peace was temporarily restored.

Mr. Taylor claims to be representing a member of the committee who was absent.

After the law touching on the point was read, sustaining Chairman Potter, the meeting was adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. Mr. Potter stated that when he called a meeting it would be at the court house and not at a grocery store. That if he wanted to resign he would resign and call a meeting within twenty days.

DIDN'T MATERIALIZE.

Secretary Richardson, of the Good Roads train, was unable to get here Saturday evening, as he expected to do, and the result was that no meeting to hear a good roads address at the Palmer House materialized.

Miss Nell Park, of Nashville, Tenn., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. R. B. Phillips, at "The Pines."

THE TEMPERATURE.
Last night the lowest temperature recorded at Government Observer Bornemann's office was 62, and the morning previous 68. The mercury still goes high in the daytime, however, but the coolness at night is very gratifying. The rain was light and it hardly rained at all in other places in Kentucky. In some places in the county also there was virtually no rain, and the farmers are still complaining.

Straw has become such an item now that one can drive all day through People county and hardly see an old-time straw-stack. The straw is baled up as soon as thrashed.—Dayton (O.) Journal.
